

CHESTERFIELD'S NEIGHBORHOOD LIBRARY EXPANDS

A new fireplace at the Bernard T. Trinity Neighborhood Library in Chesterfield Township will give children like these a really home-like and warm atmosphere for book reading on winter nights. Bay dwellers are invited to attend an open house Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. to get a look at the newly-enlarged Macomb County branch library. Holding samples of the many books which delight youthful readers are from left to right: Kathy Jordan, Tonnya Tines, Danny Jordan, and Rosemary Vienor.

Expand County Bookmobile Services

BOOKS AVAILABLE TO COUNTY'S ADULTS

Expansion of services of the Macomb County Library Bookmobile was announced today by Roger Erickson, bookmobile librarian.

Services of the mobile library will be extended to adults in many communities throughout the county with inauguration of the new program this month.

The Bookmobile regularly visits county schools during the winter months to afford students and teachers the opportunity to select books.

New areas that will be served, according to Erickson, include Fraser, with three stops; Harrison township, seven; Meade, Ray Center, Muttonville, Memphis, Macomb, Davis, Disco and Waldenburg, with one each.

Erickson said adult borrowers will be able to select from a wide range of popular and current fiction and non-fiction titles, as well as magazines. The Bookmobile also will carry books and magazines for children and older youths.

Requests for specific titles or subjects will be filled wherever possible and the requested volumes can be picked up on the Bookmobile's next trip to the area.

In addition to the community stops, the Bookmobile will continue to serve 11 rural schools, the Macomb Youth Home and the Church of Christ Home for the Aged.

Offices of the Macomb County Library and Bookmobile are located on the 13th floor of the County Building in Mount Clemens and are open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday; 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Additional information regarding the Bookmobile schedule and book requests can be obtained by calling HO 3-2335.
