

Library move is on schedule

The Chesterfield Library move is on schedule, according to Supervisor Jim Pollard, who expects the Chesterfield Mall location to open during the first week of January 1992.

The Chesterfield Board approved the purchase of carpeting for the new location and expects new shelving to arrive next week.

The library advisory committee also announced plans to raise the overdue book fine from five to ten cents per day and charge a $5 use fee for non-residents.

The committee also hired retired school teacher, Mary Jo Stein, as a part-time librarian for 20 to 24 hours per week.
